

Did you know?

Unicef estimates 250,000 to 400,000 children live on the streets of Dhaka

This is a terrible statistic. The Street children are often orphaned and most are forced onto the street due to family poverty or to escape abuse. When forced onto the street, not only do they have to fend for themselves finding food and shelter, but they are often abused or become victims of gangs or street crime.