

Aornab Tangchangya

Aornab, lives in the mountain region of Bandarban, a district in South-Eastern Bangladesh, regarded as one of the most attractive travel destinations in the country. Bandarban's economy is heavily dependent on farming and produces little that is of economic value outside the self consumption of its residents. It has a literacy rate of just 43%

Aornab is a shy little boy, very caring in nature. He lives with his father Sarnaujjol Tangchangya who is a farmer and mother Pritilata Tangchangya who is a housewife. His father's aim is to feed the family as his limited earnings means there is little money for anything else.

Aornab wants to go to school and be a doctor when he grows up. His parents want him to get an education so he can have a real chance at a future he deserves.

Now thanks to Jaago Foundations online school and The Orphan Trusts sponsorship, Aornab can get a decent education. He will be educated to private school standard and really can dare to dream of becoming a doctor.
